EUCCHARISTIC PRAYER STUDIES

SATURDAYS, NOVEMBER 4 & 11, 9:00 AM

Dear friends in Christ,

FROM FR. DANIEL

Today's readings bring a wake up call that we should all take to heart. It is rather common to experience the subtle temptation of a false sense of security, of believing—even if we don't say it with those words—that, in the end, we will all inherit the Kingdom, we will all be saved, because we are not too bad, we do a lot of good things, and God is good. Even though all these things are true, today the Lord wants to think about these strong words: the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that will produce its fruit.

The point is not to be scrupulous or to nourish an unhealthy fear, but to realize that we are called to great things because the Lord is good and loves us to the end. And so, having giving us everything, even his own Son, after asking us with a pierced heart, What more was there to do for my vineyard that I had not done?, He then invites us through the Apostle to consider this: whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is gracious, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things.

There is always more love to experience, more good to do, more fruit to bear. May we be not satisfied with anything that is not true love to the end.

United in prayer,
 Fr. Daniel
