Dear brothers and sisters

FROM FR. DANIEL

Towards the end of ordinary time, the Lord wants us to think about the fruits He expects from us and the talents we have received for that purpose. Talent means not only the ability to do some thing, such as singing or playing a sport. The talents given are gifts from God that enable us to go and bear fruit. And this is the key point: preserving the talents safely is not enough. The parable is clear about this: those who worked to multiply the talents were rewarded with more gifts; those who out of fear simply buried the talent to keep it safe, were punished. The problem is not only if we misuse those talents, if we do "bad things," but also if we are passive and complacent, and do not work hard to produce more fruit for the Lord.

And while the prospect of that kind of punishment can be frightening, the hope of bearing fruit should fill us with hope: not only can we offer a real contribution for the expansion of God's Kingdom and help many people, but we ourselves will experience the joy of giving everything for the best cause, for love and service. No other path can bring greater good to our lives.

In Christ,
Fr. Daniel
