FROM FR. DANIEL

Dear friends,

Since ancient times, the second Sunday of Easter has been considered in the highest regard by the Church as the solemn conclusion of the octave of Easter, and a special day for the "infantes," that is, the "newly planted," the recently initiated members of the Church. This importance is highlighted by the recent and beautiful addition of the particular remembrance of Jesus' Divine Mercy.

We have so many reasons to rejoice! Christ is risen; He has given new life to some of our fellow parishioners; He fills us with his mercy. May we continue to rejoice in the victory of Christ, and be renewed in our trust in his mercy.

With my prayers,
 Fr. Daniel
