PASTOR’S CORNER

Dear brothers and sisters,

The third Sunday of Advent brings a wonderful call to rejoice. We heard the promise of an everlasting joy, of the exultation and splendor that the coming of the Lord will bring.

However, this is not magic. True joy always comes through patience. And so we also heard today that we must be patient, and make our hearts firm. For this we need to take as an example of hardship the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. And the greatest prophet of all is John the Baptist.

John teaches us that joy is possible in the midst of dense darkness. From his prison John reached out to Jesus, for he was in need to reaffirming what we believed in. John did not doubt, and yet he needed to hear again that Jesus was the one. He was not spared from darkness or death, but he received faith and hope, and so his love became joy, the spiritual joy of knowing that the Lord will give him his reward.

In the midst of our own darkness, let us cling to Christ. He will give us his peace, and everything will turn into spiritual joy.

With my prayers,
Fr. Daniel
