PASTOR’S CORNER

Dear friends in Christ,

Last week the Lord called us to be the light of the world so that through our good deeds everyone will get to know the love of God. Today He helps us understand one important truth: being the light of the world is a call that does not begin with external works, but rather with the choice to love until the end.

External works come from that choice, from that righteousness that surpasses that of the Pharisees, not because it does more things or observes more precepts, but because it loves more. Because of this, our faith must move us to love not only those who love us, but also our enemies; to have nothing against our brothers, and to make sure our brothers have nothing against us; to not commit adultery even in our heart; to prefer to die rather than to sin.

No doubt, it is a challenging call. But it is the only one that makes sense, the only one that fulfills our heart, the call to love like Jesus, and with Jesus: to love to the end. May we be truly open to this call.

With my prayers,
Fr. Daniel
